Design with personalization in mind

We use advanced design and printing techniques to personalize your assessment materials including cover letters, scan forms, and any other inserts requiring personalization.

Personalization can include simple identifiers such as student ID numbers or complex demographic information. This makes filling out the form quicker for the user and scanning more efficient and precise.

Creative Options

Want to tackle the design yourself? We've developed software just for that as well. Our software helps you to create your own design forms—at your own pace—and print directly to your laser printer.

If you're interested in creating scannable forms, you can use Scantron DesignExpert™ software to create, personalize and print your own. Or, after your design is completed, send it to us and we'll print it for you.

Want to dig even deeper into the process? In addition to providing design services and software, we offer an extensive array of design classes, software training and design consultation services.
